

CONTENTS

I. INTRODUCTION (§§1–13) 1

II. COMMENTARY ON THE MAIN MAP SERIES (§§14–25) 18

MAIN MAP SERIES (40)

A. THE ANCIENT HORIZON

§14a Detail: Central Ulster in the Iron Age

§14.1 Iverio, Ierne, Hibernia (north)

§14.2 Iverio, Ierne, Hibernia (south)

§14b Detail: The Boyne valley in the Iron Age

§14c Detail: East Galway in the Iron Age

§15.1 Shetland, Orkney, Lewis, & the north British mainland in later prehistory

§15.2 Caledonia

§15.3 The Pennine–Solway region, later prehistory & Roman Period

§15a Detail: Hadrian's Wall

§15.4 West-central Britain, later prehistory & Roman Period

§15.5 East-central Britain, later prehistory & Roman Period

§15b Detail: Region of the Arras culture

§15c Detail: London–Verulamion area

§15.6 South-east Britain, later prehistory & Roman Period

§15.7 South-central Britain, later prehistory & Roman Period

§15d Detail: Ancient Dorset

§15.8 South-west Britain, later prehistory & Roman Period

§16.1 The Iberian Peninsula (east)

§16.2 The Iberian Peninsula (west)

§17 Gaul, Northern Italy, & West Central Europe

§17.1 Armorica

§17.2 Aquitania & Narbonensis

§17.3 Gallia Belgica

§17.4 The Middle Rhine to Western Bohemia

§17.5 The Upper Rhine, Upper Danube, & the Alps

§17.6 Cisalpine Gaul

§18 East-Central Europe

§19 Anatolia, the Eastern Balkans, & the Pontic Steppes

§19.1 The Carpathian Basin and the Pontic Steppes

§19.2 Galatia and the eastern Balkans

B. THE EARLY MEDIEVAL HORIZON

§20.1 Ériu: early medieval Ireland (north)

§20.2 Ériu: early medieval Ireland (south)

§20a Detail: Corca Dhuibhne (the Dingle Peninsula), Early Christian period

§20b Detail: The Boyne valley in the early Middle Ages

§22a Detail: South-east Wales as represented in the Llandaf Charters

§21.1	Shetland, Orkney, Lewis, & the north British mainland in the early Middle Ages
§21.2	Post-Roman Central North Britain: Picts, Scots, Northern Britons
§21.3	Post-Roman Pennines, Cumbria, Galloway, & Man
§22	Post-Roman West-Central Britain: Wales & the Marches
§23	Post-Roman Britain, central & south-east, focusing on Celtic and sub-Roman survivals
§24	Letauia, Britannia: Early Medieval Brittany
§25	South-west Britain, post-Roman & early medieval
III. CATEGORIES OF EVIDENCE (§§26–394)		105
A. THE ANCIENT HORIZON (§§26–305)		105
i. Material Culture: Site Types (§§26–102)		105
§§26–53 Defended Settlements and Domestic Structures (105); §§55–62 Linear features: earthworks, trackways, roads, trade routes (110); §§63–92 Burials (112); §§93–102 Ritual Sites (117)
ii. Material Culture: Artefact Types (§§103–287)		119
§§103–42 Weaponry (119); §§143–8 Carved stone monuments and statuary (129); §149 Ritual artefacts (130); §§150–60 Horse trappings (130); §§161–89 Personal ornament (132); §§190–212 Containers: pottery and aceramic vessels (136); §§213–14 Feasting equipment (141); §§215–22. Belt hooks, strap ends, belt plates, fittings, &c. (142); §§224–73 Coins and currency (144); §§275–87 Miscellaneous artefacts (150)
iii. Ancient Linguistic Evidence (§§288–99)		152
§§288–95 Place- and group names (152); §§296–9 Inscriptions (155)
iv. Ancient Battles and Boundaries (§§300–5)		156
B. THE EARLY MEDIEVAL HORIZON: IRELAND, BRITAIN, AND BRITTANY (§306–94)		158
i. Material Culture: Site Types (§§306–51)		158
§§306–21 Defended settlements and domestic structures (158); §§322–41 Religious Sites (161); §§342–4 Linear earthworks (163); §§345–50 Burials (164); §351 Industrial sites: Breton sea salt pans (164)
ii. Material Culture: Artefact Types (§§352–79)		165
§§352–62 Inscribed and pictorial stone monuments (165); §§363–70 Personal ornament (166); §§371–9 Pottery and glass vessels (167)
iii. Early Medieval Linguistic Evidence (§§380–91)		168
§§380–90 Place- and group names (168); §391 Inscriptions (170)
iv. Early Medieval Battles and Boundaries (§§392–4)		183
BIBLIOGRAPHY		185
INDEX		195
BASE MAP I (Ancient Horizon)		212
BASE MAP II (Early Medieval Horizon)		214